If You Care You Share!

Dear AEN Crew Member,

Every day we interact with many friends and colleagues during our service on board, and yet there are times we all feel alone. In AEN family, we strongly believe that if we take some time to observe, we would definitely see that we are infinitely more connected by our common aims, vision and similarities than divided by our personal characteristics or even ambitions.

During our career, we have faced numerous difficulties, going home, sitting in our couch and feeling alone even though we were surrounded by loved ones. Years passed and hard times are still there. But we still feel alone convinced that no one understood what we had experienced.

Personally speaking, one day the helpless feeling came too much and I realized that I did something unique to offer others experience. Experience fighting the personal battle that results from unpleasant incidents. I never wanted another person to feel like I did.

So now our efforts are to reach each one, find others, talk to others and make those vital connections so they never feel alone.

The truth is that none of us is alone. All we have to do is take notice of what happened and share it.

So reach out, share your invaluable experiences AMONG THE AEN FAMILY coming from your everyday duties, practices followed, cooperation with port authorities, audits, inspections, incidents, accidents, proposals and chats with your friends and colleagues focusing on our similarities and common vision.

The AEN Campaign should be communicated on board the vessel during the Safety Committee Meetings with relevant instructions and guidance to all crew members.

Wishing you always smooth seas.

Best regards,
